

ICT WEBSITE TEAM STARTS THE YEAR ON A HIGH NOTE

The website team has hit the ground running this New Year. The team is already putting more effort to ensure the university of Nairobi continue to be ranked and recognized as an academic giant not just in Africa but the world over.

The web team has already met twice this year to come up with new strategies aimed at improving the university ranking and global competitiveness. The website team comprises of web administrative officers, the web communication officers who are the voice of the institutions online presence, and the web support officers who assist and act in liaison with the web admins and web comms.
